

Hello Aught Six!

Members of 14th company recently converged on Annapolis for a golf tournament and to help me celebrate my 40th birthday. We descended upon the USNA Golf Course for the Annual Crab Cup Invitational. Of the two foursomes, defending champion Buzz Keel was the heavy favorite. Maggie Keel and Adam Hudson both had respectable rounds, yet somehow I managed to capture the Cup with a two shot lead. A good time was had by all, and we are looking forward to next year's tournament. Following golf, we had a great dinner at Harry Browne's to celebrate my big 4-0. [2006 Sept #1 Insert Photo here]

Here's a quick life update: After 8 years of playing the start-up game in San Francisco, my wife Katia and I moved to Philadelphia's Main Line in 2022 with our sons James (5) and Rory (3). It has been great being back on the east coast seeing Navy friends and visiting my folks in Annapolis. I finished an EMBA at Villanova University in May of 2022 and will be starting a doctoral program at Penn State this August. My research will target the correction of operational management friction points in the supply chain industry. I am focusing on two areas; core supply chain management strategies as they pertain to start-up operations, and supply chain management leadership development.

If any of you are ever in the Philly area, do look me up. Beat Army!
